A Journey Long and Wide . . .

Dixie Darlin

Growing takes so much from us,
Turning us all around.
Growing in so many ways,
Changing our whole aspects on life,
We're always searching for our freedom.
Our independence as individuals,
Our attitudes on friendships deepen;
Friends seem to mean more to us
As we grow older.
Always struggling to meet our goals,
An endless search for self identity,
Progressing through the seasons of time,
Our attitudes throughout our journey
Determine how far we'll travel.
We'll fall into mysterious moods and
They'll carry us far away
Into a wonderland of experiences,
Turning us around again.
Sometimes we may not realize it
But our lives are always at a turning point,
Changing us all the time.
The clouds of time will never change,
For they'll carry us far away
Into the distant sunset of today,
Back to the starry memories of yesterday,
And on into the future.

The 10th Anniversary of "All My Children"

Ms. Peggy Effertz, Attendance Secretary

... only the names have changed

"Hello, this is Peg Effertz at Bowman. We missed your son/daughter at school today." These words are spoken thousands of times a year by a lady who has been Bowman's attendance secretary and much, much more for ten of the school's twelve year history.

Peggy is the undisputed master of the "nudge." She always seems to know just when to scold, or cajole, or to mother. She has even been known, upon occasion, to use all of the above in order to get a wayward student back to school, into class, or over the magic 190 credits needed to graduate.

With graciousness and dedication, this delightful lady has assisted parents, teachers, and students alike in making attendance at Bowman a more pleasant and productive experience. The love and caring she radiates has made this a nicer place for us all.

In recognition of the many years of love and effort you have given to Bowman, we dedicate the 1982 "Visions" to Peggy Effertz: with all our hearts, and gratitude, and love!

we Change with them"*

A.S.B.

Bowman's ASB is made up of 5 officers. Corresponding Secretary writes notes/letters, as well as sends publicity to local newspapers. Recording Secretary takes notes at ASB meetings and keeps the scrapbook. ASB funds are handled by the Treasurer. Vice-President is over-all chairperson of all ASB activities. Totally in charge of ASB is the President, who chairs the meetings each Tuesday. A change this year resulted in each classroom having an ASB rep who gives info to students and brings feedback to ASB.

"If the best of me can make more of you then the best of you will reflect on me"

The new Leadership Class consists of 5 A.S.B. officers and 12 students whose goal is to improve school activities and school spirit. Together they planned our Halloween Activity Day, Frontier Days Parade entry, a Thanksgiving dessert, and the Senior Prom.

Leadership also does a good job when it comes to raising money for school activities and sports equipment. While organizing school events, they learn values clarification and leadership training skills.

Another change this year is the school newspaper, Paw Prints, which is put together by Leadership, as well as other students on campus. Robert Steele is our editor, and Lori Frankie is co-editor.

This year's yearbook theme, CHANGES, is the very foundation of our educational goals at Bowman. Growth, physical and educational, can not occur without change. We, as teachers, seek to provide the nature and nurture from which our students will grow toward their maturity. We, as teachers, change as we learn from our students. Bowman continues to change each year as new students enrich each of our lives.

I see children as kites. You spend a lifetime trying to get them off the ground. You run with them until you're both breathless . . . they crash . . . you add a longer tail . . . they hit the rooftop . . . you pluck them out of the spout . . . you patch and comfort, adjust and teach. You watch them lifted by the wind and assure them that some day they'll fly.

Finally they are airborne but they need more string and you keep letting it out and with each twist of the ball of twine, there is a sadness that goes with the joy and somehow you know that it won't be long before that beautiful creature will snap the lifeline that bound you together and soar as it was meant to soar . . . free and alone.

Only then do you know that you did your job.

Our Chance In Life

How heavy can the burden grow
That are a part of life?
How weary can the heart become
With struggle and with strife?

Sometimes it seems impossible
To scale the wall ahead.
And there are lonely moments when
We wish that we were dead.

There is no purpose and no joy
In anything we do.
And we are prompted to believe
That we are really through

But why not take the simple chance
That one more noble fight
Could conquer darkness and despair
With faith and hope and light?

Why kill tomorrow's dream before
Tomorrow is today?
Our greatest chance in life may be
The one we throw away.

Roman Yanez

*I'm changing with the seasons;
Flowers grow from me inside,
Growing from the sunshine,
Through showers they survive.*

*I'm changing with the seasons;
Summers' beat has called
my name,
Taking me from shore to shore
Relieves the flowers' dying pain.*

*I'm changing with the seasons;
The windy fall has knocked me down
Orange leaves descend upon me
As my tears moisten the ground.*

*I'm changing with the seasons;
Glistening winter calls my name.
This winter wonderland draws me closer
To heavenly clouds which look the same*

*I'm changing with the seasons;
Nature's voice has called out loud
With the breezes' wings upon
me
I soar above the clouds . . .*

IN THE TREES

Here, take this soaring soul of
me.
Take my hand.
For in your hand, my hand becomes beautiful.
Bless you for walking so near me.
Your stepping is like soft footwhispers of doves and angels.
You are the sun, streaking across the scalded beach.
Now I am awake.
I am no longer a shapeless
perambulate in the mist.
I have become you . . .
Part, and counterpart.

Robert Steele

*"A man is only complete
When he has a true
Friend to understand
Him, to share his sorrows
And passions with
And to stand by him
Throughout his life."*

Memories

*When we depart from these Old familiar buildings
And new lives,
Always remember the times
We have shared together here.
Our moments of happiness
Were made more joyful
By sharing them with our friends
Any moment holding a memory
Is a moment worth remembering,
Worth reflecting upon
Throughout the years we've spent here together
We have watched each other change and mature
Our lives have been shaped
Into what we now are
One of us may become a millionaire,
Another a poor unemployed drunkard,
But we may always be close friends
Through these precious memories we have shared.*

Rap Groups

George and Darneal run two separate Rap Groups once a week. Students enroll in the "Rap" group on a voluntary basis. The effectiveness of the sessions depends on students meeting requirements. Each student is required to record at least three dreams per quarter, six per semester for analysis in the group. Each student is also required to keep a "Life Journal" which consists of at least three entries per week. These entries must include reaction thoughts, regarding family, peer and/or personal events during the week. Other things that students learn is stress management, improving memory, relaxation techniques and on special request they can learn to stop smoking and weight control.

Spring ASB

During the Spring semester, Leadership increased greatly in size. Some of the activities they developed were the Valentine's and St. Patrick's Days; the Rummage Sale; the Gift Checks sale; and the Prom. They also continued to publish the wonderful school newspaper, Paw Prints. In March, students were finally able to stop eating soup, when Leadership students traded in over 2000 Campbells, Swansons, and Franco-American labels for some new sports equipment.

We are the proud producers of Bowman High School's second yearbook, Visions '82. We have put forth all our talents and efforts to make this yearbook a success. Our hard work began with choosing a theme. Changes was chosen because it reflected our personal and academic transformations. The basic fact of today is the tremendous pace of change in human life. A few staff members then sold advertising which helps to pay for our book. Our next step was taking hundreds of pictures of school activities and candid shots around campus. Our darkroom technicians worked long hours to print the pictures and battled against various difficulties like exposed film, wrong chemicals, burned out enlarger bulbs, broken timers, plus more! Each page of the yearbook shows a different facet of our common theme. We would like to give a special thanks to Mrs. Debbie Hild. Debbie's total commitment and support made Visions II the success we had anticipated. We hope our successors will uphold the high standards of Visions to come.

Working Students

The Work Experience Program is fortunate again this year to have students working in a variety of responsible employment positions. Students are able to earn credits by attending weekly classes which delve into topics such as a career planning, payroll deductions, and consumer affairs, among others. The important core of the Work Experience Program, however, lies in the value of the learning which takes place on the job. Our students take pride in the variety of jobs they perform, the quality of work they do, and the greater self sufficiency their earnings give them. We at Bowman join the business community in commending their efforts and sharing their pride.

Activities

Western Day

Teachers and students got on down and had a good ol' time at Bowman on our Western Day. A lot of the students and teachers put on their best duds, and it brought out the cowboy and cowgirl we all have in us. We all hit the range and had a costume judging and the lucky cowboy, cowgirl couple was Greg Smith and Teresa Kennedy.

Frontier Day

Bowman students' hard work on the Frontier's Day parade paid off with a second place win in the Senior open float category. Students participated in the parade by dressing in their western day outfits and marching up Soledad Cyn Rd. Some of the students then went to the Fair Grounds with Jody to receive our ribbon. They had a great time dancing to the Western music.

Halloween

It was spook time again at Bowman. We had many fun activities, which included the egg toss, tug-of-war (boys vs boys, girls vs girls), 3-legged race, and orange relay. Tickets to the movies were awarded as prizes to the winners.

We had lots of food which included hot dogs and chips, candy apples, and lemonade. Two special trick-or-treats were Debbie's face painting, and a feature movie "Phantom of the Opera." All us ghosts and goblins had a frightening time.

Happy Holidays!

Our Christmas Activity Day was a great success. The faculty supplied refreshments for the students, which included a six foot submarine sandwich, desserts, munchies, and punch. To end the day, we had a visit from good ole' Saint Nick. It was a very memorable Activity Day for us.

Turkey Day was very exciting for all the students. We started with the students purchasing pie, and punch, which were donated by the Leadership class. Even though some people didn't eat their pie, they ended up wearing it. Then everyone hit the courts for an energetic game of volleyball.

CUPIDS STRIKE

Valentin's Day at Bowman was full of love, friendship and laughter. It started off with our Cupids delivering Val-O-Grams which contained secret messages plus a carnation. Then we headed outside where we had a banana eating contest which Sally Bobo and Andrew Morton won. We also had enthusiastic games of volleyball and pingpong. Cupcakes and punch were sold for refreshments, and the Cupids ended the day with a shot of love to George, our favorite counselor.

God lent him to us for a while
A fleeting, precious, eternal smile.
He gave me love, a lifelong love
But God in his wisdom
Took back his sweet dove.
A dove with wings of peace to fly
He needed space — and that is why
My heart is full, my mind is free.
Hope springs eternal. He said, "Let it be."
Hands of angels carried my love away
To the peace and the friendship
While we knelt to pray.

He was used and abused
His poor soul needed a rest.
As God did, as I did
We all did our best.
Man is a creature of love and hate.
Indecision and malice bring fear
That seems fate.
John's music was magic . . .
His heart had known pain
For humanity's sake
My love he was slain.

Slain by a boy — a child of our time
A son of mankind with turmoil of mind
Who sang out a tune
And whose words did not rhyme.

— Cynthia Lennon 1981

GRADUATION DAY

Today we'll start a new life
And we'll say our last goodbyes
To all of the friends we've grown to love.
With whom we've laughed and cried.
Remembering the fun and laughter,
The problems and the fears,
And watching all our memories grow
Throughout our high school years.
The memories of the dances
And the new friends that we've met
Vacations, teachers, talking
And exams we'd rather forget.
Yes, high school days are precious, but brief.
Where all your dreams come true;
It is not the end, but the beginning
Of a life we'll start a new.

Sally Bobo

THERE WAS A FLOWER

There was a flower in the garden
Lost among the weeds.
She thought she was forgotten
As she bent with every breeze.

The days were warmed with sunshine
But she could never tell
She was hidden in the garden
The weeds concealed her well.

She often cried in silence
And wished someone would come along
Someone to tear the weeds out
And make her life a song.

One night, lost in the darkness
A stranger stumbled by
He fell within the garden
And he saw the flower cry.

She was blinded by her weeping
So she had not seen him fall
She was cursing all the many weeds
Around her growing tall.

Slowly with just one gentle touch
The stranger brushed the weeds away
And he held her close beside him
Where he told her she could stay.

He had a warmth just like the sunshine
A warmth she never knew
And when he whispered that he love her
She knew she loved him too.

Then one day he gazed upon her
With a sadness in his eyes
He said he must be leaving;
In one month they'd say good-bye.

He reassured her that he loved her
And as he tried to keep a smile,
She gently brushed against him
And they both forgot it for a while.

Yet today as she remembers
In her heart she feels a pain
For although he'll soon be leaving her
In her heart he shall remain . . .

Besides our hard working vision staff our 1982 yearbook would not have been possible without the hardworking talented efforts put forth by the following people: Jody Liss Monteleone, Mike Ehrhart, Linda Fumagalli, Mary Kurtz, Gabe Mendez, Jeff Campbell, Peggy Effertz, and Shirley Wheeler.

MIKE I want to thank you for everything you've done for me. If it weren't for you
I probably wouldn't have graduated.
I wish there were more people like you.. maybe one of these times
you'll win me in bowling * Just kidding you've won me a couple of times, and hope to stay in touch through out the years to come.

Thank for everything

Hey L.T. It's been real nice knowing you, you're a real cute and special guy. (no bull buddy) Thanks for all of the encouragement you've given me, and when I get rich and famous I'll have you to thank, because it's people like you that give college bound students like me the right incentive. I'll never be able to thank you enough. You've been a real friend Mike, I'll never forget you. Don't you go and forget me. The snow trip was a blast and you were the only cool dude around! Mister Square and Sophisticated. I've gotta go, others want to sign your book.
