COLUMBIA, S. C.—(C)—Prof. H. W. Baumgardner of the Department of Psychology may succeed the late Dr. E. H. McGill as president of Allen University, it was mentioned in educational circles this week. Dr. McGill died suddenly in Baltimore and was funeralized from the college chapel last Friday.

Boys' Home Purchased; Work Begun

Renovation of the recently purchased home for homeless colored boys in Los Angeles on East 50th street will begin next week, preparatory to the formal opening and dedication in the near future.

The home is being sponsored by People's Independent Church of Christ for the community. Rev. Clayton Russell, minister, states that the home is for pre-delinquent youths, and its purpose is to mould them into worthwhile citizens. Contributions of all kinds are asked from those who have the welfare of our youths at heart.

GOV. OLSON IS INVITED TO VAL VERDE

NEW SWIMMING POOL CORNERSTONE LAYING SET FOR APRIL 16

An invitation has been extended to Governor Olson to attend the cornerstone laying on April 16.

Construction work on the Val Verde swimming pool, which is said to be one of the largest in the county, is expected to be finished before summer, according to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, who is credited with untiring efforts in securing funds from the county and WPA for it.

The beautiful park strip in which the pool and bathhouse are located is the gift of Harry M. Waterman of Val Verde Properties Co. It comprises more than 53 acres.

To date, the county and WPA have spent over a quarter of a million dollars beautifying the park, roads and surrounding country. Several hundred Negro families own country estates in the area and it is fast developing as a popular suburban community.

The beautiful park strip in which celebration program on April 16 declared this week that accommodations for the throngs expected in Val Verde on that date are nearing completion. Norman O. Houston, Dr. Vada Somerville, Mrs. Hattie Baldwin, L. C. Robinson, George Beavers, Mrs. C. A. Bass, Mrs. Emily Portwig and others are on the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lee entertained at dinner Thursday in honor of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown of Pittsburgh, Pa.

To Appear

Miss Josephine Harreld, accomplished young pianist, who will be presented in a recital under the auspices of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority on April 14. Miss Harreld from Atlanta, Georgia, is a graduate from the Institute of Musical Art, Julliard School of Music, at New York City, and in 1935 received a scholarship to study abroad at Movartem Academy, Salzburg, Austria.

L. A. MINISTER FAVORED AS EDITOR

Rev. Walter R. Lovell, pastor of the first A. M. E. ion church at Pico boulevard and Paloma street, is being very favorably mentioned to succeed the late Dr. W. A. Blackwell as editor of the "Star of Zion" official organ of the African Methodist Episcopal church published weekly at Charlotte, North Carolina. According to word received from a number of Bishops, general officers and prominent ministers throughout the country. Pending the meeting of the board of Bishops at Livingston College early in June, the board of publication of which Rev. Lovell is a member will edit the paper.

Mr. Newell Johnson well known in civic and social circles of Oakland, California, was in the city over the week-end, the house guest of his aunts, Mrs. J. H. Graham and Miss Pauline Slater, her sympathy and commiseration often eased their burning hearts in crushing sorrows."

Besides Mrs. Blodgett, another daughter, Mrs. Eva Skanks survives, and other relatives including grandchildren. Interment was in Rosedale cemetery under direction of Angelus Funeral Home.

STUDENTS ACTIVITIES GROUP CHARGES JEFFERSON PRINCIPAL WITH UNAMERICAN ACTS

To Southside Young Democratic Club: March 18.

As reported by the Southside Young Democratic Committee on student activities, the following report was submitted by the chairman, Wendell Green:

As a result of our activities with Jefferson High school students in attempting to follow out the program set by the Southside Club pertaining to Jefferson, we would like to make the following report on faults found at Jefferson.

Findings on Administration.

I. Principal:

1. Fosters racial differences.

(a) Discourages and prevents inter-racial organizations of students.

(a) Maintains segregation in drama classes.

(b) Stopped joint meetings of 28th St. and Hope St. Y's.

(c) Brands everything inter-racial communistic and radical.

2. Allows no social activities.

(a) Will allow social functions only if the students enter into secret agreements not intermingle.

Students will not agree and therefore there have been no functions.

B. Squelches student government; blocks student organizations.

1. Dictates how student council shall vote.

(a) Student council told that their decisions mean nothing to him.

2. Opposed to student organizations on campus and off that are interested in campus and community problems.

(a) Instructed students on council to break up newly formed American Student Union chapter at Jefferson.

(b) Refused to discuss A. S. U. with head of PTA and district secretary of A. S. U.

(c) Intimidated officers of A. S. U. by calling them into office and by innuendo threatened their graduation.

(d) Conducted secret inquiry into life of president of A. S. U. and so harassed and intimidated her that she was forced to resign.

(e) Refused Negro History club on Campus.

C. Restricts Teachers' Activities in community affairs.

1. When instructors first accepted posts in Coordinating Council he compelled them to resign.

2. Called on carpet instructor who caused an article concerning the ASU to be written in school paper.

3. Several teachers were so restricted in their work that they requested transfers.

Due to these overt acts on the part of Mr. Dickinson there is a feeling of strong dislike for him in the student body

II. Vice Principals and Teachers.

A. Both vice principals are interested in student welfare but hands are tied.

B. Teachers seem up to usual standard.

FINDINGS ON CURRICULUM

I. Because of the limited curriculum at Jefferson many students have to transfer to other schools to get the studies they desire. They do not always get these transfers and either do without the work or go to other schools illegally, as was brought out in the recent case at Polly High School.

II. Students are encouraged to take commercial courses rather than academic work.

III. The course in Negro history is very superficial and inadequate. It does not portray the real role of the American Negro in the building of America, which is so necessary to build character in our youth.

IV. The curriculum facilities on a whole are not up to the standards of Los Angeles, Fairfax and Manual Arts High Schools. Jefferson is far down the list of High School ratings.

RECOMMENDATIONS

I. Due to the large number of undemocratic and un-American acts on the part of Mr. Dickinson, and his general tyrannical and unsympathetic attitude, which we consider demoralizing to the students, and in direct opposition to the principles of Academic Freedom, and due to the fact that his actions have resulted in such a great reaction on the part of the Legislative N. N. C. Program To Appear

"For the first time in the history of California" said Attorney Loren Miller, chairman of the Negro Congress' legislative committee, "a comprehensive legislative program for the protection of Negro rights has been presented to the California State Legislature." This announcement was occasioned by the release of a "Legislative Letter" addressed to the Assemblymen and Senators of California, issued here this week by the California Councils of the National Negro Congress.

The legislative program, which follows closely recommendations made at the recent State Conference, besides approving general social measures such as appropriations for unemployment relief, health insurance, wages and hours legislation and collective bargaining, stresses several measures of peculiar interest to Negro citizens.

FINAL RITES FOR PIONEER CITIZEN HELD WED. FROM ANGELUS FUNERAL HOME

Last rites for Mrs. Josephine Allensworth, distinguished California pioneer, were solemnized in the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home Wednesday morning, with Rev. T. L. Griffith, pastor of Second Baptist church conducting the obsequies.

The widow of the famous Colonel Allen Allensworth, founder of the town of Allensworth, California, succumbed last Monday at the age of 83 at the home of one of her two daughters, Mrs. Nellie Blodgett, wife of Louis M. Blodgett, on Serrano avenue. Born in Trenton, Kentucky, she had lived in California for 34 years. Three years after the colonel came to the state the little Negro town was founded. It is in the San Joaquin valley between Bakersfield and Fresno. Both husband and wife were highly educated and cultured. Of him, one writer says, "he spent a busy, courageous, consecrated, useful life, filled with industry, enterprise, high moral living and distinguished service to others."

Of Mrs. Allensworth, the same writer says, "she was a gentle, refined, sweet-tempered woman who endeared herself to all the people of the community. The humblest of the women loved her, for

(Continued from page one) community; we recommend his removal as principal of Jefferson and the replacing of him by a principal who will take a definite interest in the peculiar problems that surround Jefferson and the community, and who will work in cooperation with the parents, students, and community leaders in a democratic manner in seeking their solution.

II. We recommend a more sympathetic counselling set-up that will attempt to inspire students to greater educational heights rather than attempting to restrict them to a high school education.

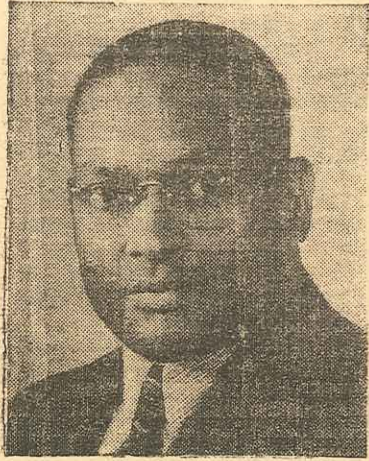

III. The committee recommends the recognition of the American Student Union chapter at Jefferson as a regular campus club, so as to provide the necessary link between parents and the teachers and administrators, and also help develop citizenship and awareness on the part of students, and recognition of such clubs as the Negro History club.

Respectfully submitted,

Dentist Offers New Lower Plate

Dr. E. P. Hardimon wishes to announce the completion of a new and scientific course in lower plate making.

It has been an acknowledged fact that the discomfort in wearing dentures was brought about because of the failure of suction in the lower plate. This has been perfected and we feel very sure that this recent discovery will be a source of new joy to all lower plate wearers, as well as prospective wearers.

Since previous announcement the flow of patients has increased so greatly that Dr. Hardimon is forced to ask that you phone for appointments and avoid waiting so long before being served. AD-7328.

The results of this discovery are amazing.

Office location of Dr. Hardimon is 2500 1/2 Hooper avenue.

Workers Receive Work Notices

Beginning Monday of this week all WPA workers in Los Angeles and on projects throughout Southern California received a formal notice from Herbert C. Legg, Work Progress Administrator, that administrative and supervisory employees are barred by law from taking active part in political management or political campaigns.

Declaring that "the administrator intends to protect employees on the Works Progress Administration from political pressure or coercion," Legg announced to the workers that they were free to address any violations of the law to him in envelopes marked "Complaint of Political Activity," to be forwarded to the Department of Investigation.

"Particularly," Administrator Legg adds in his bulletin, "is your attention called to that section wherein the solicitation of campaign contributions among WPA employees is specifically prohibited.

"Also the law specifically provides that administrative or supervisory employees shall neither interfere nor attempt to influence any employees in any election for or against any candidate."

According to information placed on bulletin boards, no organization activities of any nature will be permitted on any project nor in any WPA office during working hours.

Guild Sponsors Benefit

Sponsored by St. Mary's Guild will be a fashion review and dance benefit of St. Phillip's Episcopal Church on April 13. This event is to be at the Elks' Auditorium and is planned as an elaborate affair. You are urged to keep the date in mind.

WINNERS AT BILL ROBINSON

The three smiling faces above have good cause for joy. They were the winners of the first three of a series of new 1939 Gaffers & Sattler kitchen ranges being given away at the Bill Robinson Theatre every Wednesday night through the courtesy of the Gold Furniture Company. The winners, left to right, are: Mrs. Helen Robinson, 915 East 41st street; Mr. W. W. Hayman, 1133 53rd street, and Mrs. Ada Hill, 1192 East Vernon.

FAYE ALLEN MERITS YOUR SUPPORT

Political observers who judge accurately the outcome of elections predict for Mrs. Fay Allen a sweeping victory. Her campaign platform carries such proposals as safe and sanitary school buildings, adequate and proper food in school cafeterias, more fundamentals in education, expansion of vocational training facilities to give every boy and girl the opportunity to learn the vocation of their choice, and better and impartial counselling in the schools, which are easily understood and appeal to the average citizen who is interested in the future of the boys and girls now in school.

The conditions in the schools Mrs. Allen has exposed and her frank statements of condemnation have won her a place in the hearts of parents who have known of these conditions. They believe Mrs. Allen as a member of the Board of Education will be better able to ferret out the responsible persons for the good of the schools and community.

AGED CITIZEN DIES

Funeral services for Chester Olison, 75, who passed away at his home, 1923 Raymond avenue March 22, were held from Bethel Church of Christ Holiness last Saturday, with the pastor, Bishop Wm. A. Washington, officiating. Burial was in Evergreen under direction of Angelus Funeral Home.

ELECTRIC COOKED FOODS MORE ECONOMICAL, HOLD VALUE, PROVIDE BETTER DELICACIES

By ANN MARTIN

Foods taste better cooked electrically because the natural flavor is retained. None of the elements that give most foods their fine taste is wasted. How is this accomplished?

First, let's take the surface of the electric range. Because of the even distribution of heat afforded by the surface units, vegetables are steamed, not boiled. Green, or root vegetables, are cooked in a minimum of water, just enough to create steam. Mineral salts in vegetables give flavor. If boiled, flavor goes. When steamed, color, taste and food value are left in the vegetables where they belong.

Take a deep-well cooker, provided on most ranges for foods requiring a long cooking time, or for various combinations of foods. Years ago the fireless cooker was used, but due to condensation of steam, all foods cooked in it tasted alike. Live steam is maintained in the electric deep-well cooker; condensation is cut to a minimum—and current costs are, too. It is a wonderful feeling to know you can serve a nice, juicy pot roast, carrots that have not lost their complexion, onions with their bold but tasty flavor, and a delicate pudding, all out of one cooker without fuss or failures.

Now let's take the superb electric oven. Roasts are prepared in an open roasting pan. No water is added and they require no basting. There is less shrinkage, therefore less loss of flavor. Cakes taste better because of the well insulated oven and controlled heat, which result in a minimum loss of moisture. Broiling electrically produces a better looking and tasting product than you can imagine because of the penetration of the rays of the electric unit and the even distribution of this radiant heat.

The Good Neighbor

WE HEAR much today of the "Good Neighbor" policy. One of the most encouraging signs of the progress of social justice in the world is the increasing sense of responsibility concerning the welfare of our fellow beings. Between governments and nations the "Good Neighbor" attitude should be encouraged. Community welfare campaigns often adopt the slogan, "Be a Good Neighbor." In times of disaster organized agencies spring into action to alleviate distress regardless of race, creed, or color. Men are definitely awakening from callous indifference to the sufferings of others to a desire to relieve these sad conditions and remove their causes.

In view of this awakened consciousness we may well ask ourselves, "Just what is a good neighbor?" Jesus eloquently answered this question in the parable of the good Samaritan. But it is well to remember that he prefaced his description of true neighborliness by first emphasizing the two great commandments (Luke 10:27), "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself." Then followed his story of the man who fell among thieves and was left by the roadside in his distress, and was passed by until rescued by the Samaritan, who thus proved himself a good neighbor.

Therefore, in striving to be a good neighbor to one's fellow men one must start with love for God and man. Intelligently to love God requires a correct understanding of His nature. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, God is defined (p. 587) as "the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence." Thus God must be acknowledged as the only power and presence, the All of man's existence. One must turn to Him in childlike trust, confident that His law of ever-operative good is sufficient to meet every human problem. This is truly loving God supremely.

How easy it is to love the all-loving God, but how often it seems difficult to love one's neighbor when so much that is unlovable is apparent about him! But is the unlovely mortal one's real neighbor? The Bible tells us (Genesis 1:27) that man is made in God's image, and that image surely cannot contain or include a single quality not to be found in God, the original. That which seems disagreeable or discordant is no more part of the real spiritual man than is mud which may be spattered by a passing car a part of the person it besmirches. Even as the mud cannot deceive us, neither should the false qualities which claim to be part of our neighbor. It is our task to separate the false from the true and to see the real reflection of God. This is truly loving our neighbor.

To love our neighbor as ourselves includes even more. To love one's own true selfhood aright is the opposite of self-love, for it requires us to separate the false qualities of thought from ourselves as well as others and to prove that we are indeed "the sons of God" (I John 3:2), in thought and act. We must see ourselves as the spiritual, loving reflection of the all-inclusive Mind, completely controlled by divine Principle. We cannot unsee the faults of character in others and yet cherish them in ourselves. To see ourselves and others as God sees His creation, fulfills our duty to love another as ourselves.

Jesus' answer in the parable to the question (Luke 10:29), "Who is my neighbour?" is as applicable today as it was then. All of God's spiritual ideas, His children, are truly neighbors. Charity should begin at home, but not end there. As we meet the common daily opportunities to be helpful which lie on every side with the cheery smile, the word of encouragement, and little services, we are proving that our neighborliness is practical. . . . But we need to broaden our boundaries by including all mankind in our friendliness. . . . Then let our thoughts, like good Samaritans winged with spiritual power, reflect the Love which reaches beyond boundaries of community and country, and provides abundantly for His universe. Confident faith in His government among the nations will help to lift the heavy clouds of fear and oppression which threaten the peace of the world today.

One more lesson may be learned from the parable of the good Samaritan. The immediate need was met and also provision left for future care. Then let us add to our right thinking about our neighbor the assurance that God's continuous, abundant supply for His children is throughout eternity. Thus placing ourselves and our neighbors in God's care, knowing that all is well, we are truly loving God supremely and being a good neighbor.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Sincerity of Players Lauded

Bringing all the spiritual magic of a real camp meeting, in the famous revival scene depicted in Hall Johnson's Negro folk drama, "Run, Little Chillun," Jess Lee Brooks, as the "Rev. Jones," heads the exceptional cast in this sequence and has won the acclaim of all classes of theater goers viewing the show.

Edward G. Robinson, film and radio star, declared recently that "Run, Little Chillun," is the most powerful, gripping theatrical experience he has ever had. The sincerity of the players was lauded, particularly in the revival scene which otherwise might easily revert to a burlesque of the religion of Deep South Negroes.

Supporting players sharing honors with Brooks are Thaddeus Jones, Eugene Henderson, Cleo Desmond, Elizabeth Sprattley, Earl Mitchell, Henry Thomas, Onest Conley, Myrtle Anderson, Ruby Elzy and Olive Ball.

Charlie Chan Heads Sunday Film Hit

Having solved murder mysteries in London, Paris, Egypt, Shanghai, at the race track, the opera, the Olympics, on Broadway and in Monte Carlo, Charlie Chan returns to his own home town in the latest of his adventures, "Charlie Chan in Honolulu," to solve the most baffling mystery he has yet encountered.

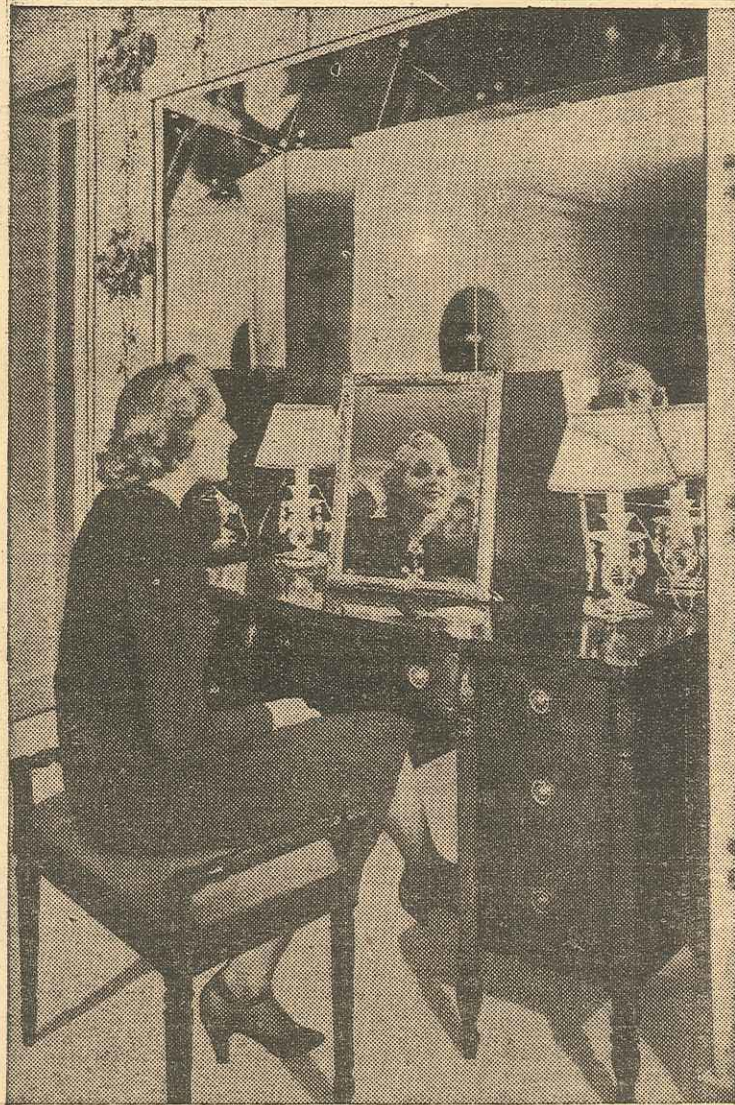

A 20th Century-Fox production, opening Sunday at the Bill Robinson theater, "Charlie Chan in Honolulu," presents Sidney Toler in the role of Earl Derr Biggers' famous sleuth for the first time.

TEXAS RESIDENT DIES

Panel an Alcove With Mirrors

MANY bedrooms have alcoves which it is sometimes difficult to make use of effectively. One of the most interesting treatments one can devise is to panel the alcove in mirrors of polished plate glass and thus convert it into a high point of glamour for a dressing table group. Illustrated here is a small alcove which became the focal point of interest in the bedroom through use of mirror panels. The cost of the above installation was approximately $85. It is permanent, requiring no redecorating from year to year.

Calvin's Newspaper Service TESTED RECIPE

By Frances Lee Barton

THE proof of the pudding is in the eating. Never a truer word was written. As children like puddings, men and women find them easy to prepare — well, we offer a real pudding recipe for your consideration today.

Chocolate Cottage Pudding

1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour; 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 2 egg yolks, well beaten; 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; 1/4 teaspoon vanilla; 1/2 cup milk; 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream well. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly; then chocolate and vanilla. Add flour, alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Turn into greased pan, 8x8x2 inches. Bake in moderate oven (325° F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan. Serve warm or cold with plain or whipped cream. Serves 12.

Retirement Revealed

HENRY "HANK" ARMSTRONG, triple fistic title holder, who has fought and won all battles on an average of twice a month during the past year, greeting the fans with his retirement notice after his return bout with Lou Ambers. He is now in Chicago, trained and fit to meet Davey Day in his bout scheduled April 1.

'HANK' ARMSTRONG RETIREMENT REVEALED; FIGHTS FRIDAY; EYE-SIGHT NABS LEWIS CAREER

Beginning with a series of interesting "Fight Predictions," the News-Guardian sports commentator has brought to the attention of fight fans drastic views forming material for discussion. These columns have not only voiced opinions of the worshipers of our professional and amateur fighters, but have enlightened many views of the fighters themselves and their careers.

Henry Armstrong, world's welterweight and lightweight champion, will hang up his gloves and retire from the ring some time late this summer or early in the fall.

This unconfirmed but reliable report was obtained from sources close to the powerful fighter who at one time held three world's titles.

Armstrong plans to quit the ring shortly after his return bout with Lou Ambers for the lightweight and welter crowns this summer, the same sources revealed.

Our Los Angeles fighter is in New York for a welterweight title bout with Davey Day Friday night. He is accompanied by his manager, Eddie Mead.

Armstrong refuses to make any definite statement on the question of his retirement, but he has been on record for some time to the effect that he will quit the ring while he still holds his titles.

He has fought on an average of twice a month and has risked his title on all occasions. It is generally known that he plans to make as much money as possible and then quit the ring wars before he is defeated and loses his drawing power.

Armstrong has not lost a single one of his last 40-odd fights. He won the featherweight title from Petey Scarron in 1937, then defeated Barney Ross in the spring of 1938 for the welter crown, and subsequently annexed the lightweight title from Ambers.

He is a prohibitive favorite to beat Day, one of the ranking welter contenders, Friday.

If John Henry Lewis doesn't retire, or isn't forced to retire by the boxing commission, he may land in the same sad bed of thorns that greeted Sam Langford, Jimmy Adamick and Battling Nelson, to name a few of the glorified pugs of the past. Blind and batty.

What can one think of a boxing commission that allows such goings on when the rule books say: "A boxer must be in perfect physical health before he enters the ring for a contest?"

There was one fighter who could successfully hide the fact that he had only one eye and that was Windmill Harry Greb. It was only when he was examined after he died that it was discovered Harry Greb had a glass eye—had been blind as a bat in one eye for years.

Joe Louis has one of the sweetest, hardest left hands ever seen in the boxing game. Yet John Henry suffered most damage in the short first round from Joe's right hand. Why? He couldn't see it coming.

"And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing.—Genesis 12:2.

"Fame comes only when deserved, and then is as inevitable as destiny, for it is destiny.—Longfellow.

"Take away wealth, fame and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle."

He Must Be Good

The above words come from the mouth of Jack Dillon, one-time idol of the athletic ring, known as "Jack the Giant Killer" less than 20 years ago, as a tribute to Joe Louis, heavyweight ring idol of today.

Listed among the "has-beens," as related by Tom Andrews, little thought is ever given to the Indiana fighter. Jack Dillon now lives a quiet life in Miami, Fla. Once a fighter, reading the news about our now famous ringster and judging from printed lines of commentators, he renders to a their justice due.

Joe Louis is now training daily at Roxie Eisner's Main Street gym at 1 p. m., becoming more fit to perform his duty as predicted for Roper at Wrigley field. Local fighters have cooperated in sampling lefts and rights to be served Roper soon.

WHO WROTE IT?

"My Heart Stood Still"

I took one look at you,

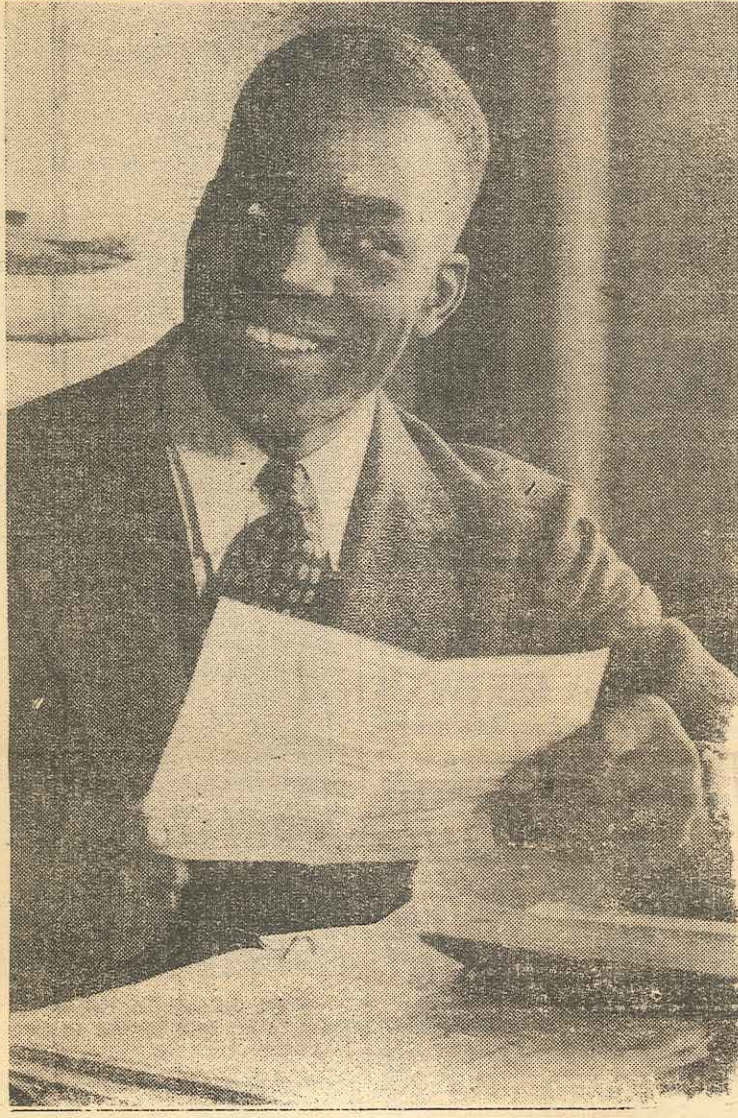

WE see here one-half of a team of composers and authors, who have been writing songs for nearly nineteen years, and who in that time have produced more than one thousand numbers. In spite of their inseparable collaboration, they are seldom seen together in public. The composer, pictured above, is reserved, quiet and lives with his wife and two daughters in Port Washington, L. I., and Manhattan. The lyricist is a Broadway character, a bachelor, lives with his mother and entertains celebrities. Both enjoy membership in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

They met in the early 'twenties, when the composer, working on the music for a Columbia Varsity Show, persuaded the author, who had preceded him through Columbia, to return to write the lyrics. Before they knew it, they had written the songs for the "Poor Little Ritz Girl" and were on their way to "Dearest Enemy," "The Girl Friend," "Connecticut Yankee," "On Your Toes," "Babes In Arms," "I'd Rather Be Right," "I Married An Angel" and "The Boys From Syracuse."

"My Heart Stood Still" was written first for a London revue, and then introduced in America as the hit number of the "Connecticut Yankee."

The composer is Richard Rodgers

FASHION NEWS

Best friend to the fashion-wise woman is the suit, and Myrna Loy's town suit of gray porosa is especially attractive. Its tucked skirt is full enough to permit an easy gait and is topped by a precise little jacket with a double trim of pearl buttons. Miss Loy wears a gray felt sailor with flower-pot crown and deeper gray suede pumps and slip-on gloves to complete the ensemble.

Fay Holden endorses a new evening jacket to revive last season's formal. Miss Holden, the mother in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's famous Hardy Family series, likes her plum-colored velvet with its new-looking long waist, curved in at the normal waistline and tied behind, with the back hanging full, like angel-wings, from the shoulders. It is particularly striking worn over black or a blending fuschia.

Scorning the professional skating costume, Florence Rice whirls around the rink in a one-piece shirt-frock of pure yellow in a bunny-soft rabbit's hair mixture. The M-G-M actress is assured unrestrained knee action for the skirt boasts ten gores and gracefully flares to the rhythm of the actress' skating.

Jeanette MacDonald tops off her dark dinner skirt with a magenta pink shirred lastex jersey blouse. Outstandingly attractive, the star wears pink tinted pearl choker and matching bracelet with the semi-formal dinner suit.

JUDGE HOLDS OUTSTANDING RECORD 30 YRS.

Going to the polls with an outstanding record of 30 years legal and judicial experience, Municipal Judge Charles A. Ballreich is expected to register a sweeping victory in the primary election of Tuesday next, according to a prediction made by the volunteer committee sponsoring his candidacy. Because of his humanitarian attitude on the bench, together with his undeniable legal qualifications, Judge Ballreich's candidacy has attracted a large group of volunteer workers, who have conducted a strong campaign for his retention in office No. 7 of the local court.

Judge Ballreich was born in Iowa and graduated from Iowa State College and Drake University. He has resided for many years in California and has taken a leading part in community, church and fraternal organizations. He is a member of the Masons, B. P. O. Elks, Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, Knights of Pythias and the Federation of State Societies.

Councilman Bennett Holds High Record

Residents of the 10th Councilmanic district are rallying undivided to retain Councilman G. Vernon Bennett to the city Council. Bennett led the fight in the City Council for Slum Clearance and low cost, public housing. It was Bennett who not only originated the slum clearance movement in the city government, but carried the program through all opposition, overcame all obstacles, and brought the movement to a successful conclusion a few weeks ago. Through his untiring efforts most of the 260 men laid off from work on January 1 are scheduled to report for duty on or about April 1.

Mrs. Jessie Terry is manager of the Eastside Headquarters located at 2107 Central.

Next Tuesday Will Tell

Before the next issue of this paper, the people of Los Angeles will have gone to the polls and registered their preference for the public officials whom they want to conduct the affairs of their city for the next two years. Members of the City Council, Board of Education and Municipal Bench will be voted upon.

This has been a spirited campaign and not without rancor. There are two irreconcilable factions seeking control of the City Council. One, the so-called Old Guard, bearing the mantle of the preceding city administration, and the other faction representing citizens who desire a change; and judging from the recent uncovering of graft and corruption, they are justified in making the change. Six months ago there was an upheaval in political circles, and the people in no uncertain manner showed their frame of mind. The coming election will prove whether the demonstration was sporadic or if it was an honest desire to make Los Angeles a clean and well-governed city.

The News-Guardian has taken no active part in the campaign. We have always stood on the side of good government, and we have endeavored to inform our readers on matters pertaining thereto.

There are several members of the City Council who have performed their duties well and their experience will be an asset to the present administration. There are others who have undoubtedly been obstructionists, who have placed selfish motives above their duty to the citizens. We believe the voters are awake to the situation, and next Tuesday should bring some startling housecleaning. If the ground gained in the recall election is lost in the primary election, then citizens of Los Angeles may as well resign themselves to an era of political and civic decadence.

WE RUN OUR HOUSE ON THE Huddle System!

MAYBE two can live as cheaply as one—on a desert island. But right after we married, Jim and I soon found out that running a house costs money—more, we first thought, than we could manage to scrape together.

Things are easier now. It took a while for us to learn, but we have the plan down pat. Jim calls it our "huddle system."

There really isn't any trick about it. We have a budget, of course—so much for food, clothes, amusements, luxuries, vacation. But having a budget is one thing. Making it work is another. There's where the system comes in.

Religiously, we read the advertisements in this paper—together. Jim looks for the things he is most interested in. I look out for myself. Both of us keep our eyes open for household needs. Then we go into a "huddle"—report to each other—check over our budget—spend what we can for what we feel we need—and save!

Careful buying, Jim says, is the secret of saving money. But careful reading of advertising, we both agree, comes first!

LINCOLN MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Vernon and Hooper Avenues
Rev. E. E. Lightner, Minister
In observance of Palm Sunday, the pastor will give the sixth in his Lenten series on "The Christian Way of Living," speaking at that time on "Tears and Triumphs." The choir, under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Frederick, will render special Palm Sunday music. At 7:30 p. m. there will be pictures on the screen depicting "The Signs of the Times."
Pre-Easter services begin Wednesday evening, April 15, 7:30.

FIRST A. M. E. CHURCH

Rev. Lovell, Minister
At First A.M.E. Zion church, Pico boulevard at Paloma street, Rev. Walter R. Lovell, pastor, will preach at the morning worship service at 11 o'clock, on "Behold, Your King." The senior choir directed by Gilbert Allen will render the musical program in keeping with observance of Palm Sunday. The observance of the day will be the theme of the worship services of the Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., the Christian Endeavor at 5:30 p. m., and the eventide worship service at 6:45, when the Rev. A. E. Carter, returned missionary from China, will deliver the evangelistic message. You will always enjoy a good service at First Church and sometimes a great one.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from Proverbs: "Remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me."

Among the Bible passages in the Lesson-Sermon are these verses from the book of Isaiah: "Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest? And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness. The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. . . They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "Disbelief in error destroys error, and leads to the discernment of Truth." "If evil is real, Truth must make it so; but error, not Truth, is the author of the unreal, and the unreal vanishes, while all that is real is eternal."

WESLEY M. E. CHURCH

Eighth and San Julian Sts.
E. P. Rakestraw, Minister
All of the services at Wesley last Sunday were very inspirational. On Sunday, Palm Sunday services will be held. At the morning worship Dr. Rakestraw will speak on "The Tears of Jesus." The evening service will be a union service with Hamilton M. E. Church, the service to be held at Wesley. Dr. E. W. Moore will be the speaker and the Hamilton choir will furnish the music. Holy Communion will be administered at all services.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH

24th and Griffith
Rev. T. L. Griffith, Minister
Dr. W. D. Carter, regional vice-president of the National Baptist Con. Inc., and beloved pastor of Friendship Baptist Church, Pasadena, a preacher of no mean ability, is conducting special evangelistic services at Second Baptist Church each evening until Easter. Dr. Griffith, pastor, stated "This is a grand united effort to save souls." All invited.
